

SMITHILLS SCHOOL*PROCEDURE:*HOMEWORK*RATIONALE

It is the responsibility of all teachers to set homework that is both regular and appropriate: Teachers' Standard 4 requires that we "set homework and plan other out-of-class activities to consolidate and extend the knowledge and understanding pupils have acquired."

Homework is set in order to enrich the learning of students, develop independent learning skills and prepare them for assessments and end of year examinations. The tasks must be meaningful and either consolidate and/or extend learning or facilitate further independent enquiry, creative thinking and reflective learning. Subject Leaders are responsible for monitoring the length and quality of homework set by the teachers within their subject area, but the expectation is that all teachers will support the development of their learners, creating and maintaining an ethos in lesson of independent learning for future success. They need to ensure that homework set is reasonable and consistent across their subject area, for example, Year 11 should be getting more homework than Year 7. Homework should be marked regularly according to the school's written feedback policy.

Where subjects are setting more than one homework a week it is entirely reasonable for one of the homeworks to be a non-written homework, (eg learning, reading, finding out).

Homework is recorded on 'Show my Homework' indicating the date the work was set, due date and a brief outline of how long the task should take. Staff will ensure that all pupils have access to the resources and success criteria for the tasks set. Staff should keep clear records of homeworks set and completed as part of their Accelerating Progress Folders.
